VOLUME THREE

buy a song, benefit the environment

Patagonia has teamed up with a diverse group of world-class musicians to help protect and restore our natural environment. The musicians provide an exclusive song, you buy some great music and non-profit environmental groups receive much-needed funds.

Clean Ocean Action is a voice for the sea – a lean, green, ocean pollution fighting machine. Using research, education and action, it unites citizens, businesses and organizations to be the solution to pollution, fight marine litter and keep our oceans wild and free from harmful industry.

The Trust for Public Land (TPL) conserves land for people to enjoy as parks, gardens, historic sites, rural lands and other natural places. TPL works from inner city to wilderness, ensuring livable communities for generations to come.

The Good Earth Singers is a global grassroots movement inspiring humanity to become more responsible stewards of the earth and its resources by harnessing the power of song to rally an action-oriented, international coalition of concerned citizens.

Musicians United for Safe Energy (MUSE) is a group of artists and activists working together for economical, safe, clean and renewable energy. Technologies that support a sustainable energy future are available now. MUSE is dedicated to helping non-profit organizations that work in the public interest and are committed to a safe-energy and non-nuclear future.

Tennessee Riverkeeper protects the Tennessee River and its tributaries by enforcing environmental laws and educating the public so future generations will inherit safe, clean water in their communities.

The Kōkua Hawai'i Foundation supports environmental education in the schools and communities of Hawai'i. Its mission is to provide students with experiences that will enhance their appreciation for and understanding of their environment so they will be lifelong stewards of the earth.

Founded in 1994, Gulf Restoration Network is an environmental advocacy organization that works to unite and empower people to protect and restore the natural resources of the Gulf of Mexico region.

The Southern Appalachian Forest Coalition is a regional non-profit organization whose mission is to protect and restore the wildlands, waters, native forests and ecosystems of the Southern Appalachian landscape.

Urban Farming's mission is to create an abundance of food for people in need by planting, supporting and encouraging the establishment of gardens on unused land and space while increasing diversity, raising awareness for health and wellness, inspiring and educating youth, adults and seniors to create an economically sustainable system to uplift communities around the globe.

5 Gyres studies the impacts of plastic waste on the world's oceans, marine life and human health. Having logged more than 25,000 miles at sea, 5 Gyres shares its scientific work globally and campaigns for proactive, land-based solutions to plastic pollution.
